ONE STATE SUES OTHER IN UNIQUE TRESPASS CASE

North Dakota Sues Minnesota for Causing Overflow Damage.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The unique charge that a neighbor state was committing a physical trespass on her territory was presented to the supreme court in the original suit in equity instituted by the state of North Dakota against Minnesota. Operations of the Minnesota state drainage project based on the Mustika river, North Dakota asserted, so increased the volume of that river that it was unable to carry the water off, and as a result, in 1915-1916, extensive farm areas in North Dakota were inundated to the "grave distress and financial impairment" of the owners.

The court was asked to decide whether a state, even in exercise of an admittedly proper function designed for the benefit of its citizens, should be permitted to injure innocent neighbors whose sole offense was that of geographical location.

Minnesota, replying, denied that the drainage project had been entirely to blame for the floods of 1915 and 1916, and sought to show that the lands in question were more or less flooded in every annual wet season. The section drained is part of a historic lake, the brief said, extending over portions of three states and of common knowledge is of little agricultural value because of its lowness.

With respect to the $400,000 damages claimed by North Dakota, Minnesota contended that federal courts were without jurisdiction in such damage suits.

DOCTOR SAW "HELL"

An old friend of Dr. Isam L. Cummings was in the News office this morning, and while in a reminiscent mood related some of his early experiences when he and the doctor were boyhood chums and living on a farm some nine miles south of Oklahoma City when that wonder metropolis was a country village.

Among other stories was one of a visit he and the doctor made to Oklahoma City soon after the municipal electric light plant was installed. It was the first time in his life that Doctor Cummings had seen an electric light and describing it he said it looked just like a bunch of hair pins that were red hot and hung from the ceiling in a bottle. He could not blow it out so he cut the wire, and said that he never saw so much "hell" come out of one little string before.

Holdenville Poultry Breeder is Winner

Fine Birds Carry Off Prizes At County Poultry Show.

The temporary ownership of the silver loving cup, the sweepstakes prize of the Pontotoc county branch of the Oklahoma state poultry federation, was awarded to Dr. W. C. McConnell of Holdenville Friday afternoon when the judge of the show decided that a single-comb leghorn pullet, entered by the Hughes county man, was the best of its class on display. It is a rule of the federation that the prize must be won two times in succession before the winner becomes the permanent holder. This rule will require the doctor to return the cup to the show next year and give everyone another chance at it, and if he is the victor in the next contest it becomes his permanent property. During the five years this cup has been offered by the federation no one has been able to win it a second time. Anyone may compete for it, as there is no limitation as to residence in the rules of the federation. In addition to the sweepstakes prize the Holdenville man also won several other prizes with his choice birds. George Winans of Oklahoma City judged the fowl in accordance with the American standard of

THE TOMB BUILDER

Time is the tomb builder.

All genius waits upon his judgment. The massive piles of stones and marble are the concrete evidence of his decision. The lonely poet, the obscure thinker, the starving artist, the rejected statesman may wait with calm assurance for Time will build their tombs and challenge the thoughtless generations to pause and read their names in changeless marble.

Along the highways of the nations he has built the mausoleums of emperors and kings, carved the black sarcophagus of warriors, and in graceful monoliths has marked the ashes of the world's renowned and honored dead.

With lordly mien he sits upon his throne and wills into being, all the Silent Cities, within whose gates the noise and clamor of men's avarice is forever stilled.

In the granite records of his tombs you may read the history of the world. Their shadows fall in far-off India, by the Hellespont, by the dark and perfumed Nile—in every land that has given genius to the world.

And too, Time is the maker of all shrines. For those who have given to the world a wealth of love or the supreme sacrifice of life, he builds with gentle hands the sacred altars, to which posterity may wear a path and where mankind may come with incense or with prayer.—Southwest American.

WILSON ASKED TO LOVE BANDIT IS CALL CONFERENCE TO BE TRIED FOR OF ALL NATIONS STEALING WOMAN

International Meeting Is To Frame Plan for Laying Aside Arms.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The joint resolution requesting President Wilson to call a conference of the nations of the world to consider universal disarmament, was approved today by the house foreign affairs committee, without a dissenting vote.

The committee rejected nine to two an amendment by Representative Mason, republican of Illinois, that invitations to participate in the conference be extended to Ireland and the Philippines.

Representative Flood, democrat of Virginia, contended, however, that if the resolutions were adopted there would be no reason to persuade Mr. Wilson might ignore it. The vote was taken after Chairman Porter had explained that it was the purpose to have the resolution ready for President-elect Harding, and that nobody had a thought of causing embarrassment to President Wilson.

Although democrats on the committee voted to report the resolution to the house, they questioned the propriety of requesting President Wilson to act on the eve of his departure from office.

Author, who had been living in a hotel here with his wife and child, with whom he had been reconciled after police officers found him and Mrs. Franzen in St. Louis, expressed surprise at the arrest, but submitted quietly. The warrant was sent here to the chief of police of Madison and specifies the theft of $100.

Stratford Teamster Shot Through Heart

Employer Claims He Used Winchester To Save His Brother's Life.

Dean Henley, a teamster, was shot down and instantly killed by Bud Gabbert at 2 p. m. yesterday at the home of Gabbert's brother Fred, three miles northeast of Stratford. Gabbert gave himself up at once to a Garvin county deputy sheriff.

The killing occurred in Pontotoc county, and Gabbert was brought here and turned over to the Pontotoc county authorities this afternoon. He was placed in jail and is being held pending an investigation.

Henley had worked for Gabbert during the past six months as a teamster in the oil field. Gabbert claims he shot the man to save the life of his brother, Fred, whom Henley was in the act of shooting when he appeared on the scene.

A 30-30 Winchester rifle was used by Gabbert, and the fatal bullet passed through the slain man's heart. When a deputy sheriff and the assistant county attorney arrived on the scene from Ada at 5 p. m. yesterday Henley's body was found lying where it had fallen, near the home of Fred Gabbert, and a 45-calibre Colt revolver was found lying in the snow about fifteen feet from the body.

Henley was 30 years old, and formerly lived at Nacona, Texas, where a wife and four children are said to live. It is said that he had been estranged from his family for a year. The boy was prepared by a local undertaker for shipment to his mother, who, with two brothers and three sisters of the slain man, lives at Nacona.

PONTOTOC COUNTY YOUTH GETS SHOT

Elsie Roper Is Wounded By Gunshot While Out Hunting.

Elsie Roper, son of John Roper who lives five miles northwest of Ada, was accidentally shot near his home yesterday afternoon about three o'clock by a young man by the name of Tisdale while the two were rabbit hunting.

The boys were hunting with shotguns, loaded with small shot, and it is said that when young Tisdale fired at a rabbit which had been jumped from a brushy young Roper was in range of Tisdale's gun and received several shot in one arm and both legs below the knees.

A physician was summoned and found that the shot were so deeply buried in the flesh that it was not wise to undertake to remove them. The attending physician was seen by a News reporter this morning and stated that the wounds were not serious and that, unless unusual complications arose, the boy would soon recover.

TO COLLECT TAXES IN ALPHABETICAL ORDER

(By the Associated Press.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 15.—If you are a local taxpayer, you should be exceedingly glad if your surname does not begin with the letters A, B or C, according to one resident who pays taxes in Oklahoma county.

C. F. Anderson, formerly a traveling salesman for a local industrial concern, believes that he holds the record for jury service in this county, having been called upon at least thirteen times within a short period to fill out a venire. In event of a jury being completed, he is turned over for service in another court until he lands in the jury chair. He assigns as a reason for his popularity that haste in securing a venire necessitates election of a name at random from the first few pages of a directory.

While willing to perform his duty he declares, he regrets that it is frequently falls upon him to fill out a venire in one court or another and envies the man with a name farther down in the city directory, as a more fortunate individual.

'USE THE SWITCH' JUDGE SAYS FOR CURING OF CRIME

(By the Associated Press.)

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 15.—A more active use of the "old hickory switch" was advocated here recently by Judge R. L. Williams as a preventative for bootlegging, thefts and boy bandits.

Parents refusing to "spank" children when necessary often bring greater punishments on the children," Judge Williams said in admonishing two youths indicted on charges of robbing a postoffice. "The use of a stout switch on bootleggers and moonshiners would result in better enforcement of prohibition," the judge also commented.

AUTO IS WRECKED, ESCAPING ROBBER DIES IN SMASHUP

One Seriously Injured, Four Escape After Loot Is Divided.

(By the Associated Press.)

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 15.—Quick retribution was visited upon one of six men who robbed the Jackson street sub postoffice station here last night, when Rufus Clemmons of San Antonio and Fort Worth, was killed in the wrecking of the bandits' car near Fort Worth, according to announcement at police headquarters today. W. S. Schriener, who police say confessed to participation in the robbery, is in jail here, having sustained slight injuries in the automobile wreck. Four of the bandits are still at large.

Police said they expected to make a sensational arrest of the "master mind" on information given in Schriener's alleged confession. This "master mind," officers said, probably was the leader in a recent wave of crime in this section.

Twenty-eight thousand dollars, most of which was not negotiable because of mutilation, taken from two registered pouches the bandits secured at the postoffice, was divided between the robbers at the leader's home here last night, according to the police.

Police officers said Schriener's alleged confession placed responsibility for the shooting of three postal employees at the sub post office station, to nervousness on the part of a member of the robber's band. He said the first shot was fired accidentally and a general fusillade followed. All the shooting having been done by the bandit, George W. Street and Albert E. Smith, postal clerks, shot in the back, probably will recover. A finger of a negro porter was shot off.

Police here this afternoon announced they had been advised that $200,000 in Liberty bonds and $46,000 in currency taken by the bandits had been recovered near Lake Worth at Fort Worth. They said two mail pouches had been found.

DALLAS, Jan. 15.—W. S. Schriener, alleged to have confessed to a robbery at yesterday's station here, was taken to Fort Worth shortly after nine o'clock this morning, where he promised to lead officers to four of the bandits who still are at liberty. He was escorted by five Dallas detectives, who said their prisoner claimed to know where his four alleged companions are in hiding.

NEGRO DIES OF BLOW FROM FLYING SWITCH

W. M. Burton, negro, who was injured by a flying switch on the Katy track during September while at work near the Danridge-Kerr produce house, died yesterday from the effect of his injuries.

Burton was struck by the moving car and knocked to the ground, falling with violent force on his head. He has been under constant medical care, but the injury to his spine and skull was so severe that his case was practically hopeless, physicians say.

THE REWARD OF STRUGGLE.

"God never crowns natural gifts or faculties. To him that overcometh is given the victor's palm." We only have to look about us, bring to our minds our acquaintances and friends to be convinced of this statement. It would almost seem at times that most of the failures in life are among those with the greatest natural gifts. The student in school receiving the highest standing may well be concerned about his future success; the person of natural social attainments may well watch his step lest the sophistry of the people deceive him; the person able to accomplish any task with ease, confidence, and satisfaction to himself, may well consider the number who have failed because of similar attainment and conception. Natural gifts are dangerous, for the human being does not grow strong or develop character without a struggle.

The real successful men are the men of attainment, of courage, and of power, for they "overcometh and carry the victor's palm." There are those who would make life's pathway easy; they would free the world from struggle and strife. To permit them to make this change, even though it were possible, would be to invite disaster.

Small men complain of the confinement which their vocation demands; of its many problems; and perhaps of its hardships; but take away the very things which seem the most objectionable, and with them happiness and contentment will also disappear. Men receive their true happiness, their greatest enjoyment, in overcoming obstacles, in solving their problems, in accumulating their fortunes, and not in using the rewards of their labor and sacrifices. What stands in the way very often of happiness and contentment are natural gifts or indifference to improvement. Men, whether engaged in farming or some other business, who start from humble beginnings, but with a desire for service and success, men who are willing to struggle, to overcome, those are the ones who reap a harvest of happiness and contentment and are "given the victor's palm."

WILL THEY FORGIVE?

It has been interesting to watch developments in the case of the New Jersey pastor who took a vacation from his family and pulpit with a feminine member of his flock and returned to confess that he made a mistake.

The return of the pastor had many of the elements of drama. His wife, family and friends appear to be in a forgiving mood in spite of the fact—or perhaps of it—that the pastor assumes all blame and responsibility for the adventure.

Forgiveness is probably the proper treatment in this unusual case. But should forgiveness be limited to the man and withheld from the woman? In most similar cases this is the procedure.

It was not surprising that the girl in the case and even her parents have been dismissed from the church. It has always been the way. There is only one instance in world record of no stone-throwing at a guilty woman because none were without sin, and that was in the presence of Christ.

The world at large will be watching Pas-saic men and women to find how the tangle will work out.

If the man deserves and receives sympathy and is permitted to work to retrieve his good name, is there any moral or spiritual barrier which should logically bar the woman from similar effort?

CRIME "WAVES."

New York's crime wave was checked. It was checked, not because the crooks repented and voluntarily subsided; not because military assistance was given the city; not because all the citizens rose up in arms and drove the criminals in the East river. It was checked by what the news dispatches reported as "intensified police activities, supported by drastic measures of criminal court judges."

Whether it be a "crime wave" a city the size of Ada might have, or an orgy of theft, burglary and murder such as New York experienced, it can be stamped out where the police do their duty and the courts give proper assistance.

It has become the fashion to talk about crime waves these days, and in some cities—not in Ada—the police have found this condition a ready excuse for lack of proper activity.

The police ought to be familiar with the breeding places of crime in a city, with the movement of criminals and with conditions that help to create a crime "wave."

The exercise of proper precaution and the strict adherence to duty will enable the police force of any city to check an outbreak of crime at its very beginning, and to protect the lives and property of the citizens at any time.

OUR CONTRIBUTION TO ART.

Our American art is architecture, so says a British painter who has looked on New York in her skyscraping glory. And, apparently, we don't know it. It has not occurred to us that the cloudcapped towers, the gorgeous palaces that crown our cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific, are the expression of the same inspiration that in other ages revealed itself in paintings and sculpture.

These are our monuments, reared by money, but not to glorify money. They were piled story on story to express the sense of grandeur which pervades populations grown to millions in number within a century.

We do not need to economize space in a land of magnificent areas, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis, Minneapolis have vast prairies to spread into, and New York itself can "go as far as it likes" toward Connecticut and Albany. But we send up these architectural skyrockets to relieve our pent-up feelings—to show off—and what is art but that?

What Others Say

McAlester News-Capital: A writer on the home speaks of it as a "luxury," which nowadays it is in more senses than one.

Pawhuska Capital: When airplanes be-prices will be higher next fall may be a prophet, but there is a suspicion that he is only spoofing.

Pawhuska Capital: WWhen airplanes become as common as automobiles the traffic cops of the skies will probably have an exciting time.

Miami News: "Whisky" bought in a Florida hotel killed a guest. Seems as though the bell hops were in a league with the morticians.

Miami News: Couple were married in a Baltimore theater. That's nothing; we've heard of many elopers skipping out before the father's foot lights.

Muskogee Times-Democrat: They must be using Mexico's oil to lubricate the wheels of government because not a squeak is heard south of the Rio Grande.

Muskogee Times-Democrat: Indications are that the Volstead act hasn't made the water wagon entirely obsolete as a January vehicle.

Shawnee News: One wonders if the automobile touring party which visited Shawnee Monday is having hard sledding about this time.

Shawnee News: Here is something new in the way of a drive and at the same time it appears to have an element of commonsense. Miami has started a "clean the garret" drive.

Nashville Tennessean: "If a man could make love to the girl he loves with the ease and fluency with which he makes love to the girl he doesn't love, all wooings would be successful."

Baltimore American: "The fatal tendencies of the man who didn't know it was loaded are fast giving place to the motorist who is always going at a very slow rate of speed when he kills his victims."

McAlester News-Capital: "Cheer up, the worst is yet to come," some philosophic friend ought to have quoted in time to the democrat who committed suicide because his wife voted the republican ticket.

Ardmore Ardmoreite: It is currently reported in Oklahoma political circles that the state legislature may pass a joint and concurrent resolution to move Cam Russell and his Cat across the line into Kansas, there to flourish with the sunflowers and hoppers.

Ardmore Ardmoreite: The snow may be beautiful, alright, and it may be pure, alright, and it may be the comparat of healthful weather alright, just as long as it is not peddled to the average person in the form of water-soaked balls.

My little craft sails not alone—
A thousand fleets, from every zone,
Are out upon a thousand seas,

I leave it to a higher will
To stay or speed me, trusting still
That all is well, and sure that He

WIFE ELOPES AS HUSBAND WAITS AT GIRL'S GRAVE

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Judge Joseph Sabbath declared that Joseph Wein, a merchant, deserved a divorce after hearing a strange story of a wife's elopement while the husband waited in a cemetery for her to assist in the dedication of a tombstone at the grave of a baby daughter.

Wein testified how he had made plans with his wife for the dedication ceremony to take place on September 21, 1919. Invitations were sent to a score of friends and a rabbi had promised to attend.

"At noon," Wein stated, "my wife said to me, 'Joseph, go over to the cemetery and see that the arrangements are completed. But before you leave, give me all your money. Pick-pockets might rob you. I'll be there at the appointed hour.'"

The friends came, the rabbi arrived, but his wife never did come. Wein went home and found his wife and money were gone.

FOR TORPID LIVER

Tennessee Lumberman Talks of His Successful Use of Black-Draught for Colds and Headaches.

Jamestown, Tenn.—"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for years, in fact it is the only liver medicine that does me any good," says Mr. L. A. Ragan, a well-known lumberman of this place. "When I was single, I used it for headaches, and especially if I got a cold and feel feverish, I take a good dose of Black-Draught, and it sets me right."

"Since I have been married, I have used it in my family, and never have found its equal for torpid liver or disarranged stomach, especially with children. I can recommend Black-Draught, and gladly do so."

Every member of the family occasionally needs the assistance that Black-Draught can give, in helping to cleanse the system and relieve or prevent the troubles that come from a lazy, torpid liver.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you may suffer with headache, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, etc. Unless relief is obtained, serious sickness may result. In its long and successful use, Theford's Black-Draught has been found in thousands of cases to relieve such disorders, by stimulating the liver to do its important work. Ask for Theford's Black-Draught, and insist on the genuine. NC-137

Great Eagle Attacks Boys When They Invade Cavern

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Jan. 14.—Joe and Dewey Hoskins, two youths of Fort Gibson, on a hunting trip north of their home town, entered the mouth of one of the crystal caves numerous in that section of Muskogee county, to eat their lunch.

Suddenly, with a hoarse scream, a huge eagle swooped down upon them, causing the boys to seek the shelter of a big rock and bring their arms into play. They fired repeatedly at the eagle, which flew low above them, letting out coarse, hissing noises, the boys say, and then flew off southward, over the brow of a large cliff.

Turning again to their lunch, believing the giant bird had been frightened away, the boys declare they had hardly started to eat when the eagle, swooping down through a rift in the top of the cavern, again attacked them.

Firing as they ran for other shelter, the boys took refuge behind a tree, the eagle spitefully tearing away the bark in its drives upon them.

One of the shots finally struck the eagle, which fell near the mouth of the cavern.

Three young eaglets, hidden far back in the cave, were found by the boys upon investigation.

The eagle, measuring seven feet from tip to tip of wing, has been sent to the Northwestern school of taxidermy to be mounted.

Automobile Tourists Flocking to Florida

Organize National Association of Auto Travelers and Hold Convention.

(By the Associated Press.)

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 15.—Florida this winter is entertaining more automobile tourists than ever before. They come from all sections of the country, principally from the Northern states to escape the cold weather. Hotels, boarding houses and cottages are taxed to their utmost capacity by regular tourists and the automobilists. Thousands of tents have been put up in practically every county of the state and some places have established tent cities with every convenience for automobile tourists. It has been estimated that more than 200,000 people will occupy tents in Florida this winter.

So enthusiastic over the automobile method of touring about Florida are some of the Northern visitors that they have organized an association known as the Loyal Order of Tin Can Tourists of the World. Their annual convention recently held here was attended by about 2,000 people from all over the United States and from Canada. They elected as their officers: Exalted Royal chief tin can opener of the world, James M. Morrison of Chicago, Ill., and El Paso, Texas; royal chief, etc., G. M. Tremains of Fredonia, N. Y.; vice royal chief, etc., "Grandpa" Hawkins of Noblesville, Ind.; royal secretary, Mrs. W. H. Husselman, Butler, Ind.; royal treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Trussell, Minneapolis, Minn.; assistant secretary, Mrs. Verne Lennon, Marion, Ind.; sergeants, William S. Yuch, Coloma, Mich., and Charles T. Fales, the "mayor of Easy street," of Syracuse, N. Y. Gainesville, Fla., was selected for the 1921 convention city.

One of the most interesting speeches of the convention was that of Owakeja, a Mohawk Indian chief, who with his squaw had driven their automobile from Canada to Florida to spend the winter and who is a member of the order.

The Kalispel, Mont., chamber of commerce invited the "tin canners" to hold their mid-summer meet in that city.

Mrs. Taylor's Sickness Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Roxbury, Mass.—"I suffered continually with backache and was often dependent, had dizzy spells and at my monthly periods it was almost impossible to keep around my work. Since my last baby came two years ago my back has been worse and no position I could get in would relieve it, and doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have found great relief since using it. My back is much better and I can sleep well. I keep house and have the care of five children so my work is very trying and I am very thankful I have found the Compound such a help. I recommend it to my friends and if you wish to use this letter I am very glad to help any woman suffering as I was until I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Backache is one of the most common symptoms of a displacement or derangement of the female system. No woman should make the mistake of trying to overcome it by heroic endurance, but profit by Mrs. Taylor's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NORMAL NOTES

President Bennett of the South-eastern Normal at Durant was in Ada yesterday and visited the Normal while here.

Mr. Turner, manager of the Dixie lyceum course, was interviewed by E. C. Wilson Thursday. He hopes to secure permission to bring his course here during the next meeting of the E. C. O. E. A.

Mr. Pratt, brother of B. A. Pratt of the Normal faculty, arrived in the city this week. Mr. Pratt expects to make his home in Pontotoc county and will locate on a farm just north of town. He and his brother will open an up-to-date dairy and poultry farm there.

Charles P. Nieder, architect for the state board of affairs, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the Normal buildings.

Miss Kathleen Smith was out of school yesterday on account of illness.

The cast of the Continental Congress play had their pictures taken yesterday at noon for the annual.

Work on the annual is well under way and those in charge are working hard to make it a success. They hope to make it the most interesting and best annual in the history of the school and are working to that end. The students are also assisting them in every way possible.

Joe Riddle came in from the ranch near Stonewall Thursday and visited friends in the Normal during the day.

Miss Francis Campbell, graduate of E. C. S. N. in 1920, was here yesterday visiting friends. She also paid the Normal a visit while here.

The seniors will hold a class party in the reception room at the Normal this evening.

The shade trees on the school campus have been trimmed and other work done to make the Normal more beautiful in the spring. These improvements will greatly add to the beauty of the Normal.

Miss Alberta Carney will leave tonight for Columbia, Mo., where she will enter the Columbia university. She has a host of friends among the students and faculty who regret to see her leave. She expects to return for the summer term.

The enrollment for the new term began today and a large number of students have already enrolled. Several new pupils are expected to enter school this term and present conditions promise even greater enrollment than last term.

President Linscheid has returned from Oklahoma City where he attended a meeting of the state board of education.

A Young Novel

She had big brown eyes that were both temperamental and intelligent. She had thoroughbred nostrils which dilated when she felt; and lips that were scarlet. Many men had expressed admiration for her. She had never loved.

He loved her. He was accustomed to taking what he wanted. He expressed no admiration. He crushed her to him and kissed the big brown eyes and the scarlet lips.

She flew into a flaming rage and sent him away, but— She sent for him.

She demanded an apology. He tenderly kissed the big brown eyes and scarlet lips.

She did not send him away. —"Bits of Life."

Go To Church Sunday

First Baptist Church.

That old-time ruler of Thebes, whose name was Archias, one night was going to a house of feasting and revelry, and one of his trusted servants intercepted him on the road, and thrust into his hands a note, and said to him: "Prince, do not go to that place—do not go." The servant said, "Serious matters await you, if you go. That note explains it. Read it. Do not go." And the prince said, as he thrust the note into his pocket: "Serious matters tomorrow, but none tonight. Feasting tonight, revelry tonight, music tonight, laughter tonight, a good time tonight. Serious matters tomorrow!"

And he refused to read the note. Oh, if he had only read the note. The note, penned by the faithful servant, told him, of a plot that very night to take his life, but because he ignored the warning he went right into the trap, and that night his life was taken away.

My fellow sinner—and you are such, for I am a sinner saved by grace—my fellow sinner, let not Satan cheat you and beguile you and trick you at that point, that you have time enough. When all is at stake, your influence at stake, your eternal happiness at stake, your deep joy at stake, surely you have no time enough. Give consideration now to the claims of Jesus Christ on your soul.

Sunday school meets at the First Baptist church at 9:45 tomorrow morning. Mr. J. A. Ridling is the general superintendent. We have four departments with fine teachers for all classes. We want you present.

The pastor will preach at the eleven o'clock hour. We are trying in every possible way to persuade those who do not know Christ as Savior, to accept Him as such, and to get those who are His followers to live closer to Him.

The Sunbeams will meet at 3 p. m., and the Juniors will meet at 4 p. m.

The Intermediate B. Y. P. U. will meet at 6:15, with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bell in charge.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. will meet at 6:15. All young people sixteen years and up are cordially invited.

The evening service will begin at 7:30. The pastor will preach and evangelistic sermon at that hour. We urge those who are interested in the matter of salvation to be present, and if the spirit impresses you to give yourself to Jesus, we pray that you may act upon such impression.

An invitation is extended to all to be present. We will do our best to make you feel welcome.
